2. Learn how to assess skin care needs.

Know your skin type

Use the following Skin Typing Chart to become familiar with the different types of skin. Then, using the Skin Routine Chart in step 3, select the Daily Skin Care System that most closely matches a client's needs. Remember: Even though each System is designed to work on a particular type of skin, products from various Systems can be mixed according to your clients' individual needs.

What Skin Type Are You?

Normal-to-Dry Skin

- Skin appears taut, dull, and prone to flaking
- Fine pores
- Blemishes are rare

Normal-to-Oily Skin

- Skin has oily sheen
- Enlarged pores
- Blemishes are common
- Fewer lines than others your age

Sensitive Skin

- Requires extra-special care
- May react to cosmetics, soap, alcohol, fragrances, and sunscreen
- May suffer from stinging, itching, redness

For more information on the skin's structure, growth, pores, and acne, jumpahead to Appendix A.

3. Develop a skin care routine with the help of this chart.

Follow your skin type column, top to bottom, or just remember: Cleanse first, tone, treat, moisturize.
